Dear Third Grade Community,

Welcome to 3rd grade! Today is the first day of school.

We will learn names and get to know our class community.

Think

What is something you are looking forward to in 3rd grade?

Sincerely,
Ms. Coten and Ms. Biskar

HISTORY
SQUARE

SQUARE
1839 Jean Vioget laid out the village of Yerba Buena (later San Francisco) showing the Union Square site as a plaza.
1847 Colonel John Geary decided the block to the City to be held in perpetuity for park use.
1850
1861 circa The sandlots was removed and the first design for Union Square was completed.
1861-1865 The block was named "Union Square" to commemorate public support of the Union during the Civil War.
1871-1880 The site was cleared and redesigned as a formal strolling garden. Churches and residences surrounded the square.
1873 Cable cars were operating on Powell Street.
1890 Cable cars began running on Geary Street.
1900-1903 Union Square was redesigned with the Dewey Memorial at its center. The memorial was designed by sculptor Roosevelt Aitken and architect Newsom & Harper. The white Victory bronze figure was modeled after Alma Spreckels, San Francisco socialite and was named after the U.S. Naval Admiral George Dewey.
1903 The Dewey Memorial was dedicated by President Theodore Roosevelt on May 14.
1905 circa By the turn of the century, luxury businesses, theaters and hotels surrounded Union Square. The first hotel was the St. Francis on Powell Street.
1906 The Great Earthquake and fire destroyed all buildings around Union Square. Remnants of the Dewey Arch were seen on the Square while the St. Francis was rebuilt and expanded.
1908 The fully private Department Store was built above the Square on Geary Street where Macy's now stands today.
1921 The Pacific Union Club was built at the corner of Powell and Sutter Streets where the Sir Francis Drake Hotel now stands.

SQUARE
1870-1880 The Square was cleared and redesigned as a formal, strolling garden. Grand mansions and residences surrounded the Square.
1873 Cable cars were operating on Powell Street.
1878 Cable cars began running on Geary Street.
1900-1901 Union Square was redesigned with the Dewey Memorial at its center. The memorial was designed by sculptor Robert Aitken and architect Newton Perkins. The Winged Victory bronze figure was modeled after Alma Spreckels, San Francisco socialite, and was named after Admiral George Dewey.
1903 The Dewey Memorial was dedicated by President Theodore Roosevelt on May 14.
1905 Several of the city's most prominent theaters were located around Union Square. The first movie was shown at the St. Francis Theater on Powell Street.
1906 The Great Earthquake and fire destroyed all of the downtown theaters and most of the Union Square hotels, except the Palace Hotel. Many were rebuilt on the Square while the St. Francis was rebuilt and expanded.
1909 The City of Paris Department Store was built facing the Square on Geary Street where Neiman Marcus stands today.
1915 The Hallidie Building was built in the middle of Post and Powell on the eastern side of the Square. The Hallidie Building is still there today.

1928 O'Connor, Moffatt & Co. was built at Stockton and O'Farrell Streets where Macy's stands today.
1938 The Union Square Garage

1928 O'Connor, Moffatt & Co. was built at Stockton and O'Farrell Streets where Macy's stands today.

1938 The Union Square Garage Corporation was formed for the purpose of building a garage beneath Union Square.

1941 Construction began on the garage, the first underground parking facility in the world and an air-raid shelter. The architect was Timothy Pflueger with gardens designed by the City of San Francisco under the aegis of John McClaren, Superintendent of Golden Gate Park.
